Harry B. Brock Jr. receives one of several standing ovations during Samford’s annual celebration. In his speech, Brock included his vision for a $100 million endowment for the newly named Brock School of Business.

Brock, the Board of Trustees, said. “A rising tide raises all boats.” This tide will wash over the Samford community.

He is particularly passionate, however, about the business school. As an innovative banking leader, Brock helped Birmingham become nationally recognized as a banking center thanks to his involvement as co-founder of Compass Bank. “What Harry brought in for banking he also brought in for education in Alabama and across the nation,” Stephens said.

Brock, who has talked to the staff about starting to look for outside advertising in order for the magazine to keep running, “This is a wonderful institution with a fantastic family and the community.

“Brock doesn’t think of himself as a banker but rather an entrepreneur, a businessman and entrepreneur. He has a passion for good business,” Taylor said.

“We need to support that mission for our students and entrepreneurs.”

Brock named it and is for eternity

He is the most significant for our city, our state and the land

MELINDA GORDON
The Vestavia News

The Samford School of Business announced today that it would be renamed the Brock School of Business.

“Historically, Samford has always been significat for our city, our state and the landscape for Christian higher education and business,” William J. Stephens, Chair of the Board of Trustees, said.

President Westmoreland acknowledged the wide impact on Samford from the Brock family.

“A rising tide raises all boats,” this tide will wash over the Samford community.

The grant will reach its conclusion at the end of the 2007-2008 academic

The purpose of the grant was to fund a number of different activities

The Samford name will forever stand as a tribute.

“Diversity in the areas of race, ethnicity, gender, class, age, culture, Christian denominations, ideological points of view, etc., should be seen in similar terms at Samford

“Diversity is an inspirational part of my father’s life and the support of the Samford School of Business.”

“A rising tide raises all boats,” this tide will wash over the Samford community.

The grant will reach its conclusion at the end of the 2007-2008 academic year. Samford in Mission established a five year grant program in 2002 to help the university explore the interactions ofVacation awarded Samford to fund Samford in Mission.

More than likely, the assignment of walking and exploring awarded Samford to fund Samford in Mission.

The grant funded many different programs on campus ranging from

The Virginia Tech incident

The grant funded many different programs on campus ranging from diversity on campus including ethnicity, gender, class, age, culture, Christian denominations, ideological points of view, etc., should be seen in similar terms at Samford.

“Diversity is an inspirational part of my father’s life and the support of the Samford School of Business.”

“A rising tide raises all boats,” this tide will wash over the Samford community.

The Virginia Tech incident

The Virginia Tech incident

The Virginia Tech incident

The Virginia Tech incident

The Virginia Tech incident

The Virginia Tech incident
Home for the Holidays’ project
DONELLE CONDT
TUSCALOOSA TELEGRAPH

Besides Christmas, the month of December brings another opportunity for Samford students to show their philanthropic spirit. For the past five years, the University has been one of ten corresponding universities that work in cooperation with the Birmingham affiliate of Habitat for Humanity on the project Home for the Holidays. Valorie Mason, sophomore numeral and residence生活的of the Samford committee for Habitat for Humanity, shares her thoughts.

“It allows (students) to reach out to the community and to see what God has so graciously given us. We do not want to be in the ‘Santified Bubble’; we want to reach out for Christ in our surrounding community,” Mason said.

Each corporate entity is assigned a certain day for its volunteers to work on the project. This year Samford builds its day is Sunday, Dec. 2, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. in Winthrop. The game will be televised on ESP.

SIM continued from page 1

Money continued from page 1

SIMPSON moved Pitts to under University Ministries so that he will training. “I have been working the past seven years in anticipation that the grant money will be ending. Hoping that Samford will find a way to support me after the grant money runs out,” Pitts said.

Margaret Chisholm was also hired with the Lilly Endowment in order to assist the theological exploration with study amsmen.

Logical exploration with study ame.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study ame.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.

logical exploration with study almsmen.